The office of notary public has a long and proud history in our society. Their work is rarely glamorous, but it is so important that the highest courts in the nation routinely accept properly notarized documents as evidence in legal matters. In fact, the law governing notaries gives them the same mission as sworn law enforcement officers, "to serve and protect."

In Arizona, a notary public is a public officer commissioned by the Secretary of State to perform notarial acts, as defined in the Arizona Revised Statutes (see Chapter 5). A notary, in essence, serves as an impartial witness pursuant to A.R.S. ? 41-328(B). Government offices, businesses and the public rely on the accuracy and integrity of notaries public. This means the notary should take the required steps to authenticate signatures and ensure that all notarizations are properly completed and performed. Many documents require a notarization in an effort to deter fraud, to prove the authenticity of the signature and to ensure that a signature was made willingly and not under duress. Therefore, it’s essential that a notary accept a valid form of identification, as defined in statutes, to determine that a signer is who he or she claims to be. Because the prevention of fraud and deception is central to the notary's role, it is essential that a notary have no conflict of interest when notarizing a document.

On October 12, 2003 the first issue of The Notary News was published by Victoria Ring of 50 State Notary. Since that time The Notary News has been distributed free of charge on a weekly basis to a growing number of notary subscribers and fans. Why is The Notary News so popular? Because it is not a typical ezine. Instead of being dominated with advertising (like so many other free ezines) The Notary News provides excellent articles, tips and techniques submitted by other notary signing agents and other "insider" information to help the notary signing agent grow and prosper their business. The Best of The Notary News is fun to read and beautifully illustrated. Every article as well as the multitude of questions and answers specifically relating to notary signing agents has been meticulously organized to make finding information fast and easy. This book is a perfect compliment to How to Start, Operate and Market a Freelance Notary Signing Agent Business.

Designed for efficiency and portability while complying with the record book requirements faced by Texas Notary Publics. Notary Signing Agent work often involves meeting with 1 or 2 signers and notarizing several forms. Traditional notary journal/record books are not designed for this and involve lots of writing. They are also large and bulky for mobile notaries. This record book is designed to be easier to work with and is pre-populated with the most common documents notarized at a loan signing. This version has the journal pages rotated 90 degrees and spread across two pages. This was requested by several notaries and helps with privacy while providing more space.

The Department of Licensing has worked to keep the notary public application process as simple as possible. A prospective notary need only submit a complete application, proof of a $10,000 surety bond, and appropriate fees to the Department of Licensing in order to begin the process. Once an applicant has completed all application requirements and proven that he or she is eligible, the Department will have a new certificate of commission mailed out promptly. New in 2018, notaries public can also apply for an electronic records notary public endorsement, which allows the notary to perform notarial acts on electronic documents as well as paper documents. The application process is similar to the application process for the commission, and can be done at the same time or separately.

A notary is a public official responsible for independently verifying signatures and oaths. Depending on how a document is written, a notarization serves to affirm the identity of a signer and the fact that they personally executed their signature. A notarization, or notarial act, officially documents the identity of a party to a document or transaction and the occasion of the signing that others can rely upon, usually at face value. A notary's authentication is intended to be reliable, to avoid the inconvenience of having to locate a signer to have them personally verify their signature, as well as to document the execution of a document perhaps long after the lifetime of the signer and the notary. An oath is a sworn statement. In most cases a person will swear that a written statement, oral statement, or testimony they are about to give is true. A notary can document that the notary administered an oath to an individual.
